

Exhibitor statements – transport logistic 2025

- In alphabetical order -

Dr. Frank Albers, Managing Director Sales & Marketing, KRONE Trailer

“For us, transport logistic is more than just a trade fair – it’s a key industry gathering with global appeal. It brings together all modes of transport to discuss future trends, challenges, and joint solutions. As a company, it provides the ideal platform to showcase our full product portfolio – this year, with a special focus on our digital ecosystem mykrone.blue and our diverse service solutions. The dialogue with experts and decision-makers is just as valuable to us as the opportunity to broaden our own perspective and gain fresh ideas for building a more sustainable transport and logistics industry.”

Ashwin Bhat, CEO, Lufthansa Cargo

“The transport logistic trade fair in Munich is always a highlight for Lufthansa Cargo. The entire air freight industry is and remains an industry that thrives on personal exchange – true to our purpose ‘Enabling Global Business’, we connect people and markets worldwide. This makes the conversations with customers and partners on site over the past few days and the opportunity to make new connections with visitors from all over the world so important.”

Fred-Markus Bohne, Managing Partner, Panattoni

“As Europe’s largest developer of industrial and logistics real estate, transport logistic is a must-attend event. It brings together the industry’s most influential minds in one place and provides a valuable platform for sharing views on current market developments, new ideas and partnerships. This year, the quality of dialog was especially notable – many of our meetings were with top-level decision-makers and were both in-depth and forward-looking.

What makes this trade fair truly special is its international reach together with a sharp focus on logistics. This is reflected in the combination of existing customers, new contacts, and international partners we engage with here. Our solutions for innovative, sustainable industrial and logistics spaces across Europe attracted great interest.”

Stanislas Brun, Chief Cargo Officer, Etihad Cargo

“transport logistic is an important platform to connect with industry partners all in one place, explore new opportunities and innovations while sharing and demonstrating new milestones for Etihad Cargo. The quality of engagement this year has been outstanding. We’ve had high-impact conversations with senior leaders, innovators, and decision-makers across key sectors, which reinforces the event’s value as a hub for meaningful dialogue and strategic partnerships.

transport logistic 2025 placed a clear focus on the industry’s transition towards greater digitalization, sustainability, and innovation. Key topics included artificial intelligence, data-driven logistics, and the expansion of alternative drive systems. These priorities closely align with Etihad Cargo's strategic roadmap, particularly our investments in digital solutions. That said, our main interest has been in partnerships and innovation. transport logistic brings together the full spectrum of the logistics ecosystem, from freight transport and warehousing to digital and supply chain solutions, in one globally connected platform. Its scale, international reach, and cross-sector representation make it a unique environment for strategic dialogue and business development. The event enables meaningful exchange with industry leaders, showcases the latest innovations, and fosters collaboration across all modes of transport, which is essential for driving the future of logistics.

transport logistic consistently delivers as a world-class industry forum. Its scale, scope, and strategic relevance make it the benchmark for global logistics events. I have attended the event for the last few years and I believe that each edition elevates the conversation and this year's fair has once again set a new standard."

Alessandro Cacciola, CEO, Andreas Schmid Group

"transport logistic 2025 clearly showed where the logistics industry is heading. As the third largest economic sector in Germany, logistics plays a key role in driving innovation, promoting sustainability, and strengthening international networks. For the Andreas Schmid Group, a medium-sized logistics service provider, the trade fair was a complete success. The international makeup of the visitors, strong interest in practical solutions, and in-depth dialogue on key topics such as artificial intelligence, sustainability, and tailored logistics concepts all confirmed one thing: we are on the right track. transport logistic was not only a meeting place for the industry – it was also a powerful source of inspiration. We leave the event with concrete ideas, inspiring new contacts, and strong momentum – and we look forward to expanding our solutions internationally and actively shaping the future of logistics."

Jürgen Distl, Head of Operations, Mercedes-Benz Trucks

"Over the past two years, we've gained valuable experience using eActros in our own supply chains by electrifying inbound logistics to our production plants. Our practice shows that electric trucks can already operate economically on selected routes. With this knowledge, we aim to support our suppliers and customers in transitioning to more sustainable logistics solutions. We offer not only the right vehicle technology but also expert guidance in route analysis, planning, and charging infrastructure. transport logistic provides us with an ideal platform for engaging discussions, fresh perspectives, and new ideas."

Jens Drewes, CEO, Hellmann Worldwide Logistics

"transport logistic is much more than just a networking event – it provides a platform for meaningful exchange and fresh momentum on the key issues of our time, from digitalization and artificial intelligence to sustainability. In Munich, the spotlight is on factors that drive logistics forward and shape our economy of tomorrow."

Sabrina De Filippis, CEO, FS Logistix

"After the launch of our new brand and digital platform in Rome, today we are proud to present ourselves to international stakeholders and clients in this new look, at the most important trade fair in the sector. A step up that underlines our increasingly international character, consolidating a path that began with the entry of Exploris into the TX Logistik family."

Clemens Först, Board Spokesman, Rail Cargo Group

“transport logistic is the central platform for presenting sustainable logistics solutions. This year’s focus included multimodal concepts, flexible offerings, and sustainable transport strategies – highlighting how quickly our customers’ expectations are evolving. Our job is to recognize these trends early on and respond with intelligent, end-to-end solutions for the market.”

Marc Hasenbein, Head of Sales, dbh Logistics IT AG

“transport logistic 2025 was an outstanding trade fair for us – providing the perfect platform to win new customers, strengthen existing relationships and build valuable partnerships. We were particularly impressed by the high-caliber of the visitors and the strong interest in our modernized transport management system. The in-depth industry dialogue and on-site networking opportunities make this event truly exceptional for us.”

Markus Heinelt, Director Cargo Development, Munich Airport

“transport logistic, in conjunction with air cargo Europe, truly deserves its title as the world’s leading trade fair for logistics. Nowhere else do all stakeholders in the supply chain come together with such breadth and quality. That’s why we at Munich Airport are always pleased to be represented at this event.”

Andreas Heukäufer, Sales Manager, Hörmann KG Verkaufsgesellschaft

“transport logistic is a valuable opportunity for Hörmann to present our portfolio in industrial doors and loading technology. While our focus – construction elements for the logistics industry – may place us in more of a niche segment, we had numerous engaging discussions with both national and international visitors. Key topics often included the renovation and refurbishment of logistics properties, and loading technology for double-decker trailers – trends that will continue in the years to come.”

Robert Howe, Managing Director, bremenports

“With around 75,000 visitors, calling transport logistic a family reunion would probably be the wrong term. But it does feel a bit like that – it’s simply that you meet many people who bring genuine passion for the transport and logistics industries. Ultimately, this is what makes transport logistic the leading trade fair in both sectors. Especially in times like these – marked by ongoing and evolving crises, from armed conflicts to the threats posed by climate change – transport logistic serves as an anchor. It’s not only a place to discuss current business but, more importantly, a forum to address shared challenges and learn from one another how to best navigate them. And beyond all else, one thing remains constant: personal contact, engaging conversations, reunions, and the opportunity to meet colleagues in person are still indispensable – even in an era of digitalization and video conferencing.”

Antje Huber, SVP Strategy, Marketing and Staff DHL Freight.

“Attending transport logistic is of particular importance for us as DHL Freight. This trade fair is one of the world’s leading logistics trade fairs. It brings together the most influential decision-makers, innovators, and partners from around the world. Engaging directly with industry leaders, and the opportunity to present our innovations and solutions for efficient, sustainable logistics make this event indispensable for our company.”

transport logistic is far more than a trade fair – it is the central platform for the entire logistics industry. Its uniqueness lies in the comprehensive representation of all modes of transport and the full value chain. Whether it's road freight, digitalization, or sustainable supply chains: here, startups meet global market leaders, and visions meet solutions. For us as DHL Freight, this exhibition is a must-attend event."

Tobias Jerschke, Managing Director, Kühne+Nagel

"The logistics world has found its home in Munich. In times of extreme volatility, transport logistic 2025 proves more than ever to be an authoritative platform – one that drives innovation, identifies market trends, fosters customer engagement, and delivers powerful momentum through its strong networking dynamic. For me, this event marks a boost for the industry, particularly in the key areas of technology, AI, and integrated logistics concepts."

Torge Köhnke, Managing Director, DSV Air & Sea Germany

"transport logistic 2025 was an absolute success for DSV! Our innovative, new exhibition stand attracted a high number of visitors and provided the ideal stage for engaging, constructive discussions with our customers and partners. We are especially proud to have presented DSV at an international trade fair for the first time following the merger with Schenker – highlighting our global network, expanded service portfolio, and forward-looking logistics solutions. It was an outstanding experience for us to impress so many people with DSV in just a few days."

Tobias König, CCO, Rhenus Group

"The transport logistic trade fair is an indispensable platform for us at the Rhenus Group to connect directly with customers and partners. One of the highlights this year was our own panel on transforming chemical logistics through the use of 4PL providers – focusing on digitalization, process simplification, and performance management. The conversations were of exceptionally high quality and once again proved why this trade fair rightfully holds its status as the industry's leading event. Especially in today's environment, it's more important than ever to come together and shape the future of our industry."

Marcel Lohbeck, Managing Director, Federal Association of Public Inland Ports e. V.

"The transport logistic trade fair is the leading trade fair for intermodal logistics. Inland ports play a key role as the architects of these supply chains, linking waterways, rail, and road. At transport logistic, our member companies connect with all their network partners and lay the groundwork for new ideas and partnerships."

Axel Mattern, Member of the Executive Board, Port of Hamburg Marketing

"Once again, transport logistic provided an ideal opportunity for us and our more than 40 partners to engage with existing customers and explore new partnerships. This year, the globally recognized leading trade fair once again proved its value as an ideal platform with a highly international audience."

Wang Mingfeng, President, COSCO SHIPPING (Europe) GmbH

"For COSCO SHIPPING, transport logistic is an excellent opportunity to showcase our latest achievements and services in our core topics of "Green and Sustainable Shipping" and "Digitalization of the Entire Supply Chain", it is an important platform for networking and business, as it allows us to meet the industry, new and existing customers, partners and our colleagues from around the world."

Peter Prijak, Director New Vehicle Sales, Volvo Trucks

“At transport logistic, we meet our customers face-to-face, many of whom are also represented with their own exhibition stands. It’s an excellent opportunity for direct, in-depth dialogue about technical developments at Volvo Trucks and specific projects. A trade fair that truly lives up to its name.”

Arthur Reijnhart, Executive Director, Schiphol Commercial

“air cargo plays a crucial role in keeping the Netherlands connected to the world — socially and economically. transport logistic provides a valuable opportunity to engage with partners across the industry, exchange ideas and address shared challenges. Strengthening these networks is essential as we work together on smarter, more efficient cargo solutions.”

Andreas Schmitz, Chairman of the Management Board, Schmitz Cargobull AG

“For us, transport logistic is a key platform for sharing insights on the latest developments and innovations in the logistics industry. This year, together with our strategic partners, we’re showcasing solutions that are precisely aligned with our customers’ needs: payload-optimized trailers, high-performance refrigeration units, digital telematics solutions, and a comprehensive service offering – all designed to boost efficiency and reduce operational costs. Thanks to its strong international presence, transport logistic serves as a central meeting place for logistics professionals and gives us the opportunity to engage directly with top-tier decision-makers and industry experts from diverse sectors.”

Wolfram Senger-Weiss, Chairman of the Management Board, Gebrüder Weiss

“For Gebrüder Weiss, transport logistic is a key international meeting place to demonstrate our innovative strength, particularly as we continue expanding our presence in the German market. The direct exchange with customers and partners on site clearly shows that our sustainable transport solutions, such as the e-truck in regular operation, are right on the pulse of the industry.”

Björn Thiemann, SVP, Head of Northern Europe, Prologis

“Conversations at the fair once again showed that mobility and sustainability are the central challenges shaping our industry’s future. This is precisely where our strengths lie—and it was inspiring to see how powerfully our solutions resonate with today’s needs. transport logistics proved to be a valuable forum for exchange, fresh ideas, and building partnerships.”

Ulrich Wrage, Member of the Board, DAKOSY

“transport logistic is a vital platform for advancing the future of digitalization across the entire supply chain and joining together our collective strengths. With our cross-port project German Ports, in collaboration with dbh logistics, we are demonstrating how we set digital standards – even across competitive boundaries. This showcased project, aimed at combating drug-related crime in container imports, exemplifies the kind of forward-thinking approach logistics must embrace. In addition, transport logistic serves as the ideal testing ground to quickly align and validate our innovative ideas with stakeholders across sectors and industries.”