Bigger than ever before

In 2025, transport logistic will once again be the meeting place for logistics

October 23, 2024

- Demand already higher than at the previous event
- transport logistic will occupy a total area of 150,000 square meters
- air cargo Europe will be held in two halls

There are still a few months to go before transport logistic opens its doors in Munich from June 2 to 5, 2025, but the first interim assessment already gives hope for a strong and very international logistics year in 2025. Demand for the leading trade fair for logistics, mobility, IT and supply chain management is already above the figures for the last edition. Dr. Robert Schönberger, Global Industry Lead transport logistic exhibitions, is satisfied: “The generally rather subdued economic outlook is not reflected in the interest of our customers from across the globe. We are delighted that we enjoy the trust of the exhibitors with transport logistic and that they regard the trade fair here in Munich as a must event.”

Two additional halls

Two additional halls will be opened to meet the growing demand. Overall, transport logistic 2025 will occupy 150,000 square meters, spread over twelve halls and track area outdoors.

For the first time, air cargo Europe will occupy two halls, underlining its importance as the most relevant gathering of the air cargo community worldwide. In addition to many new exhibitors, all the well-known industry leaders have already registered for it again. Schönberger says: “We are seeing a clear trend among our major existing customers to exhibit with a larger presence at
